whos.amung.us provides innovative and transparent analytics to blogs and websites.

Originally founded in March 2007 with the release of the classic widget. We were well received in the blogging world, growing at great pace with over 2 billion widgets served in six months. Around this time, another key feature was released - maps, with graphs in between. Our growth continues until this day.

Today, whos.amung.us is a complete website statistics package for web authors. We tell you how many people are currently on your website, where they come from and how many of them were there in the past.

Headquartered in Canada, this self-funded team of two employees is looking to give 'stats' a new meaning.
